Breaking Down a Healthy Diet for Divers

7 Foundations of a Healthy Diet

1. Healthy nutrition starts with planning. Mentally or physically map out meals and be sure this food is available.
2. Eat at regular intervals in the day. No longer than 4 hours without food.
3. Choose whole foods vs processed foods for the majority of your diet (90% of the time) (see ideas below)
4. Balance meals and snacks with carbs, protein, antioxidants and healthy fats (see healthy plate below)
5. A healthy relationship with food and your body. Eat for health/performance, not boredom, guilt or stress.
6. Choose liquids with minimal sugar like water, milk/soy/almond beverage, tea. Avoid juice, soda, energy drinks.
7. Enjoy “treats” in moderation – they taste better this way!

Whole Food Based Meal and Snack Ideas

Best Breakfasts
- Oatmeal, 1-2 eggs, handful of almonds
- Shake = 2 cups skim milk/soy/almond, 1 banana, 1 Tbsp natural peanut butter
- Mix - 6oz Greek yogurt + 1/3 cup whole granola + 1-2 Tsp dried cranberries
- 1-2 sl. whole grain toast with natural peanut butter + 1 cup skim chocolate milk/soy
- 1-2 cups high pro cereal (eg. Kashi) + 1 cup skim milk

Best Snacks
- 6oz Greek style yogurt + small fruit
- ½ scoop whey + 1.5 cups skim milk/soy
- 1 cup of vegetable sticks + 2 Tsp hummus
- ½ cup skim cottage cheese + 1 fruit
- Natural nutrition bars (look at ingredient list)

Best Lunch’s/Dinners
- Chicken breast salad w/ low fat dressing + fruit
- Tuna salad mixed with low fat ranch salad dressing on wheat pita + 1 cup celery sticks
- 1-2 cups vegetable soup + turkey sandwich on whole grain bread
- Tofu, chicken or beef stir fry with veggies, brown rice
- Salmon, trout or whitefish + couscous + steamed vegetables
- 1-2 cups of vegetarian, turkey or lean beef chili + 1 cup carrots
- Lean beef steak + baked potato/sweet potato + side spinach salads.

<tr>
<td>Not eating very much before practice/competition. Usually due to not wanting to feel full (aerial moves &amp; nerves), and wanting to look slim in swimsuit.</td>

<td>• Overeating can result in poor body weight management.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Not eating or drinking enough before activity results in low blood sugar &amp; hunger, leading to the possibility of over eating afterwards.</td>
<td>• Fueling timing is wrong, you need the energy before training. This can impact performance.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Have a small amount of sugar &amp; balanced recovery snack to sustain energy &amp; prevent overeating. See On Deck Fuels below.</td>

<tr>
<td>Many athletes arrive to training &amp; competition in a dehydrated state, usually due to poor planning. Divers tend to drink less due to not feeling “warm” b/c of the cooling effect of water and drafty climate on deck.</td>

Top 5 Pre & Post Diving Snacks
1. ½-1 cup rice cereal/oatmeal + skim/soy milk
2. Banana or apple + 1Tbsp peanut butter
3. 6oz Greek yogurt
4. Fruit + protein (milk, whey) smoothie
5. Sport nutrition bar

Top 5 On Deck Fuels
1. Water + diluted sport drink
2. Banana
3. ½ cup dried fruit
4. Applesauce (in squeezable tube)
5. 1 package sport gels, bites or blocks.

Hydration Tips for Divers
- Aim for a baseline of hydration of 8-10 cups per day OUTSIDE of training.
- Water, diluted juice, tea, milk all count as fluids
- Listen to your thirst - It’s there to tell you when you are dehydrated!
- Pre-hydrate before training with 6-10oz of fluid 1-2 hours before hand.
- Aim for a hydrated urine color before diving (#1 or #2) on the urine chart.
- Bring a water bottle on deck filled with water or diluted sport drink, and place it somewhere visible so you remember to hydrate. For longer events in hot and humid environments, you may need to set a schedule for hydration, 3-4 gulps about every 20 minutes.
- Hydrate after training with at least 8-16oz of fluids and use urine color as a guide.
